

Greetings Potential Switcher

Enviroswitch is looking to launch an Environmental Health Magazine in the near future and we would love for you to be a part of it.

Therefore you are cordially invited to participate.

How do you benefit?

- You get the opportunity to be featured in the magazine through the publication of your input environmental health/Management/Science article or newsletter.
- If you have an existing research abstract from a research project/dissertation/thesis you can share it with us for further exposure
- You can add the publication to your Curriculum Vitae as a demonstration of a candidate with an extra edge
- When we consider the filling of vacancies at Enviroswitch you may have an extra edge for having demonstrated your ability to write beyond your CV.
- Your article may be shared on all our Social Media platforms and the articles section of our Website, with an acknowledgement of you as the author.
- This opportunity has only been shared to those that have taken the initiative to forward an email to recruitment@enviroswitch.co.za

How does it work?

1. Go to <https://www.enviroswitch.co.za/enviroswitch-articles> to see the type of articles previously written by the Enviroswitch team so that you get a feel of the style that we use.
2. Think of a suitable Environmental Health/Management/Science article to write, or a newsletter that shares the great things that EHPs are doing currently in South Africa
3. Do some research, but focus on having your own personal opinion and view about the subject.
4. Write the article and send it to info@enviroswitch.co.za
5. The article will then be considered, edited and if suitable, it will then be published on our social media platforms, our website and be part of the shortlist for the Enviroswitch Environmental Health magazine.
6. Remember to include your short profile at the end of the article to give the feature your personal touch – You can include your achievements, experience and work relationships.

Looking forward to your positive response, imagine if your article/newsletter was the first one we shared???

From the Enviroswitch Team
